Attached, please find a brief summary of the major delays in the financial statement preparation for the auditors. Please let me know if you have any questions on any of these items, the context may assume a certain level of understanding of reading financial statements, or the financial statement process, so I am happy to provide additional context if necessary.

Thank you Alan. If I could have some more information on the timeline of events here that would be great. Also, what is our timeline moving to completion along with beginning the next audit cycle. Please also provide any information on important deadlines missed and if we are concerned about any consequences because of a late audit filing this year and next.

Thanks
Matt

Apologies, I thought I had already sent a revised version to you. I pulled a couple of sections in the middle that I'm not sure had enough context and would probably generate more questions than they'd resolve. I thought about pulling the final "Summary of Audit Issues" section, which is accurate and is a good summary of the problems that led to our audit delays, although not directly relevant to the timeline moving forward. That said, [REDACTED]

Let me know if you want to discuss any of this further or if you need anything else from me.

Cheers,

I reread and think we should probably discuss again before I send anything on. I am concerned that the way some of this reads attributes blame to you rather than past audit and process concerns.

I'll see what I can do on the timeline of events. On my part, it may be somewhat limited because I don't have a log, but I'll see what I can do.

Thank you Alan. If I could have some more information on the timeline of events here that would be great. Also, what is our timeline moving to completion along with beginning the next audit cycle. Please also provide any information on important deadlines missed and if we are concerned about any consequences because of a late audit filing this year and next.

Thanks
Matt

Attached, please find a brief summary of the major delays in the financial statement preparation for the auditors. Please let me know if you have any questions on any of these items, the context may assume a certain level of understanding of reading financial statements, or the financial statement process, so I am happy to provide additional context if necessary.
